

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. This is the best law that has been passed in many years.

Indiana's law has been so effective that we used to get one or more calls per DAY and now we are down to less than two per month.

This law allows me to put my child to bed and not worry about the phone ringing all night long and waking him up. I used to have to turn off the ringer in the upstairs just to let him sleep in quiet, but now it is not a concern and the No Call Law is Great!!!!!!
